

ACT
Government

LIBRARIES ACT

LET'S GO FOR A STORY WALK

The Trouble in Tune Town by Maura Pierlot

Download or pick up the map and follow the walking route to each stop to find out what happens next.

Scan the QR code to download the map and to hear audio of the author reading each part of the story.

THIS IS STOP 2

For the previous part of the story and to get a printed map, go to:

Gungahlin Library
– Level 1 entrance

For the next part of the story, go to:

Gungahlin Town Square
– Alexander the Bunyip
Statue by Anne Ross

‘That’s not a good warm-up, I need to get warmer,’ said Meg, who was Tune Town’s best music performer.

So she switched yet again, but the tuba was tricky. The tune that she tooted was sluggish and sticky.

Meg frowned and she fretted: ‘This song I can’t play! If these notes won’t behave, they should just go away!’

Story and illustrations used with permission of the author Maura Pierlot

Maura is an author and playwright based in Canberra. She enjoys writing about memory, perception and identity. The Trouble in Tune Town, her first children’s book, was inspired by her kids who loved playing music but didn’t like practising. The key is to learn from mistakes, keep going and have fun.

Illustrations by: Sophie Norsa | Published by: Little Steps Publishing

maurapierlot.com | thetroubleintunetown.com

www.library.act.gov.au

@librariesact

Brought to you in partnership with:

B E L C O
ARTS