

ACT
Government

LIBRARIES ACT

LET'S GO FOR A STORY WALK

The Trouble in Tune Town by Maura Pierlot

Download or pick up the map and follow the walking route to each stop to find out what happens next.

Scan the QR code to download the map and to hear audio of the author reading each part of the story.

THIS IS STOP 9

For the previous part of the story, go to:

Gungahlin Town Park
near Light rail stop
– Gungahlin Place

This is the last stop, to start from the beginning of the story, go to:

Gungahlin Library
– Level 1 entrance

But Meg hadn't practised and started to worry. She needed to know all the notes in a hurry.

'Relax,' the notes said. 'If you play us all wrong, we'll still come together and make a great song.'

Meg played with a smile, and the concert was splendid. The trouble in Tune Town had finally ended.

THE END - We hope you enjoyed the story and the walk!

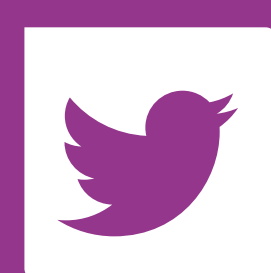

Story and illustrations used with permission of the author Maura Pierlot

Maura is an author and playwright based in Canberra. She enjoys writing about memory, perception and identity. The Trouble in Tune Town, her first children's book, was inspired by her kids who loved playing music but didn't like practising. The key is to learn from mistakes, keep going and have fun.

Illustrations by: Sophie Norsa | Published by: Little Steps Publishing

maurapierlot.com | thetroubleintunetown.com

www.library.act.gov.au

@librariesact

Brought to you in partnership with:

B E L C O
ARTS