

ACT
Government

LIBRARIES ACT

LET'S GO FOR A STORY WALK

The Trouble in Tune Town by Maura Pierlot

Download or pick up the map and follow the walking route to each stop to find out what happens next.

Scan the QR code to download the map and to hear audio of the author reading each part of the story.

THIS IS STOP 5

For the previous part of the story, go to:

Marketplace Parklet
– Corner of Hibberson & Gozzard Street

For the next part of the story, go to:

Marketplace Parklet
– Hibberson Street in front of Subway

Back home in Tune Town, a crowd packed the park, where the concert was due to begin after dark.

The moment the bandleader started the song, everyone realised something was wrong.

Meg played piano, but there was no sound. The notes were all gone, and they couldn't be found!

On the flute and the tuba, the song wasn't there. The notes had all vanished, and no one knew where!

Story and illustrations used with permission of the author Maura Pierlot

Maura is an author and playwright based in Canberra. She enjoys writing about memory, perception and identity. The Trouble in Tune Town, her first children's book, was inspired by her kids who loved playing music but didn't like practising. The key is to learn from mistakes, keep going and have fun.

Illustrations by: Sophie Norsa | Published by: Little Steps Publishing

maurapierlot.com | thetroubleintunetown.com

www.library.act.gov.au

@librariesact

Brought to you in partnership with:

B E L C O
ARTS