

ACT
Government

LIBRARIES ACT

LET'S GO FOR A STORY WALK

The Trouble in Tune Town by Maura Pierlot

Download or pick up the map and follow the walking route to each stop to find out what happens next.

Scan the QR code to download the map and to hear audio of the author reading each part of the story.

THIS IS STOP 6

For the previous part of the story, go to:

BOOK FACE entrance
– 33 Hibberson Street

For the next part of the story, go to:

Top of Bus Interchange
– Corner of Ernest Cavanagh Street & Gungahlin Place West

The crowd was amazed — not a tune could be heard. The notes had gone missing. How very absurd!

The bandleader, startled, exclaimed all around: 'Where is the music? It needs to be found!'

'Oh no!' Meg protested. 'The notes must have split, when the song was too hard and I struggled, then quit.'

Story and illustrations used with permission of the author Maura Pierlot

Maura is an author and playwright based in Canberra. She enjoys writing about memory, perception and identity. The Trouble in Tune Town, her first children's book, was inspired by her kids who loved playing music but didn't like practising. The key is to learn from mistakes, keep going and have fun.

Illustrations by: Sophie Norsa | Published by: Little Steps Publishing

maurapierlot.com | thetroubleintunetown.com

www.library.act.gov.au

@librariesact

Brought to you in partnership with:

B E L C O
ARTS